YOUR DUTY OF DISCLOSURE TO THE UNDEWRITER'S

What you must tell the underwriters: By law, you must answer all their questions honestly, telling them anything known to you and which a reasonable person in the circumstances would tell them.

They will use your answers to decide whether to insure you and anyone else to be covered, and on what terms.

Who needs to tell them: "YOU INCLUDES": -It is important that you understand you are answering their questions in this way for yourself and anyone else you want to be covered under this policy.

NON-DISCLOSURE

If you do not tell the underwriters: If you do not answer their questions in this way, they may reduce or refuse a claim, or cancel the policy. If you answer fraudulently, they may refuse a claim and treat the policy as never having existed. If you do not understand your duty, ask us to explain.

CO-INSURANCE (AVERAGE) CLAUSE

A co-insurance (average) clause applies in particular to the Property, Business Interruption and Electronic Equipment Sections of this Policy. (It may apply to other sections also, so please read your policy document for actual conditions)

This means that if the Sum Insured for:

Any items of Property insured under the Property Section; or the Gross Income insured under the Business Interruption Section; or Any item of Electronic Equipment insured under the Electronic Equipment Section

Is less than 80% (80% is an average of most underwriters) of its value at the time you take out this Policy and at each renewal of the Policy, then for any loss or damage You will be Your own insurer for the difference, that is You will bear a rateable proportion of each claim in accordance with the following formula.

Sum Insured x Amount of loss or damage divided by 80% of value = (up to Sum Insured)

NOTE 80% IS ONLY AN EXAMPLE
